12. Educational aims of the programme

The Cert HE Birth and Beyond Practitioner provides the qualification required to become an NCT Birth and Beyond Practitioner and to facilitate NCT Essentials Courses. These antenatal courses aim to prepare all parents for the transition to parenthood (Department of Health 2011).

This course is for those wishing to work with and support parents as they prepare for the transition to parenthood. It is also the core qualification for those wishing to develop a wider and more advanced skill base by studying the Level 5 Birth and Beyond Modules. Students can progress to Level 5 and the Foundation Degree Birth and Beyond Advanced Practitioner when they have passed 90 credits at Level 4.

The aims of the programme are to:

1. Develop NCT Birth and Beyond Practitioners who are fit for practice and who accept responsibility for on-going personal development.
2. Equip NCT Birth and Beyond Practitioners with the ability to respond to the changing social context of parenting

3. Enable students to have an understanding of the significance of issues of diversity in their practice including, but not exclusive to, cultural diversity

4. Develop the attitudes, values and skills in students that reflect the NCT vision and underpin effective evidence-based practice.

5. Develop practitioners who work in a person-centred manner, showing empathy, warmth and respect for those they work with.

6. Develop critically reflective practitioners who have the ability to utilise contemporary knowledge, research and evidence on which to base their practice.

7. Provide a rewarding and transformational learning experience which ensures the development of a range of transferable academic and practical skills which meet the needs of students, parents, NCT and the wider community.

8. Promote an ethos of partnership with other NCT practitioners and health and social care professionals, enabling parents to benefit from a holistic approach.

13. Intended learning outcomes and learning, teaching and assessment methods

Learning Outcomes for the Cert HE Birth and Beyond Practitioner

On successful completion of the course students will be able to:

Knowledge and understanding:

1. Demonstrate knowledge and an understanding of the key features affecting the health and wellbeing of both parents and babies across the transition to parenthood.

2. Identify a range of ways in which groups can effectively be used to promote learning, self-realisation and support.

Cognitive and intellectual skills:

3. Learn independently using reflection, evaluation, feedback, self-directed study and time management skills to meet set objectives.

4. Access and select up-to-date knowledge, research and evidence, and critically evaluate it before use in practice.

Practical skills relevant to employment:

5. Demonstrate group facilitation skills which meet the practical, emotional and relationship needs of parents across the transition to parenthood.

6. Apply person-centred skills when working with parents, showing respect for an individual’s beliefs and needs and valuing their experience.
7. Evaluate the effectiveness of the NCT Essentials courses that they facilitate, identifying strategies for improving their practice.

Transferable/key skills:

8. Use a range of strategies for working effectively with groups and for promoting adult learning in a holistic and experiential manner.

9. Employ appropriate and effective communication and interpersonal skills.

10. Assume personal responsibility for practice, learning and continuing development, whilst also being able to identify personal support needs.

11. Demonstrate a non-judgmental attitude which values individuals, their needs and their experiences.

Examples of learning, teaching and assessment methods used:

This programme is delivered using a blended learning approach which includes an element of work-based learning, allowing theory and practice to be integrated. NCT tutors model the approach taken by NCT Practitioners when working with students.

Examples of learning and teaching methods:

- Residential Induction Event providing an introduction to both the programme and to life as an adult learner with NCT and the University of Worcester
- Interactive Study Days including information giving, discussion, small group work, and the practise and development of physical skills
- Tutorials including facilitated discussions, presentations, group facilitation and physical skills work
- Facilitation of a Birth and Beyond Course (work-based learning)
- One-to-one sessions with tutors
- NCT Practitioner and Course observation
- Contact with tutor and other students in tutorial group via e-group, e-mail, Skype, telephone or an online learning platform (Blackboard)
- On-line and e-learning including use of Blackboard, pebblepad and specific on-line learning packages
- Attendance at NCT conferences and forum
- Involvement with local NCT branches
- Self-directed study

Examples of Assessments:

- Skills based:
  - Evaluation of Course Observation
  - Assessment Days to assess ability to lead a Facilitated Discussion and Interactive Session
  - Presentation

- Content based:
  - Evaluation of Case Study; Essay; Report; Reflective Commentary; Resource File;
14. Assessment Strategy

Assessment is aligned with the University’s Assessment Policy and is seen as a means to:

- Assess whether students have met the specified learning outcomes to the required level
- Allow students to demonstrate practical and academic progress and achievement
- Provide a supportive structure to allow students to learn from feedback
- Increase and motivate learning towards learning outcomes

Both Summative and Formative Assessments are used. Formative Assessment is seen as playing an important role in student learning and development, providing students with regular feedback on their progress. It is aligned to Summative Assessment and can increase student confidence in achieving the Modular Learning Outcomes.

A broad range of assessment strategies are used which are student-centred and help develop the skills needed for both Higher Education and future employment. Assessments combine both traditional and innovative assignments and include those focussed on ‘content’ (essays, resource files, evaluations, reflective commentaries) and those focussed on ‘practical skills’ (facilitated discussions, interactive sessions and facilitated sessions).

Assessment had been considered across all modules to ensure a positive learning experience for students which allows for:

- A range (and in places a choice) of assessment strategies to suit different students’ learning needs
- An ability to build on skills learnt from previous assessments.

In the Course Handbook each assessment, along with comprehensive guidelines, is outlined in the module specifications. The guidelines contain explicit assessment criteria, aligned to module learning outcomes, and indicate what students need to do to complete the assessment successfully.

The assessments are marked using criteria based on UW grade descriptors.

16. QAA and Professional Academic Standards and Quality

The intended Learning Outcomes of this programme are commensurate with a higher education qualification at Level 4 as specified in the QAA Framework for HE Qualifications.

This award is located at level 4 of the FHEQ.

17. Support for students

Student support is a key element of the programme and is provided through a range of sources at both NCT and the University of Worcester

1. Tutors
   Core Tutors
   The NCT core tutor system is an important part of ensuring that every student receives the individual support that will allow them to progress academically and personally; the core tutor takes on the role of the Personal Academic Tutor for students through level 4. Every student is allocated a Core Tutor and becomes part of a small (up to 16 students) local tutorial group. Students must attend monthly tutorials where they have a chance to practise group facilitation skills, engage in group discussions, share relevant information through presentations and discuss any particular issues of relevance. Core Tutors also provide one-to-one support through face-to-face contact, e-mail and telephone.

   Guidance and Support:
   Students will be given guidance and support from Core Tutors on how to manage their time in relation to the differing module formats and submission dates.

   Module Tutors
   Students are also supported through specific modules by Module Tutors who deliver module study days to small groups of students (up to 16) enabling them to work with individual students where necessary. They will also provide one-to-one support where requested.

   Mentors
   Students are assigned a mentor as they complete the Cert HE Birth and Beyond Practitioner course to support them through their Probationary Year.

2. Course Handbook
   The Course Handbook contains detailed information on not only the modules (with guidance on how to approach and complete the module), but also the management and requirements of the programme. Additional information supporting their practice as NCT Birth and Beyond Practitioners is also included.

3. Course Logbook
   The Course Logbook contains additional information about the practitioner role, the Student Charter and the Learning Agreement; it is a ‘live document’ designed to be used as a reflective logbook and diary.
4. Induction
A two-day induction programme provides students with the opportunity to be introduced to:
- The principles of learning and teaching in higher education
- Study skills
- Information and Learning Systems at the University of Worcester and at NCT (including library services, Blackboard and Pebblepad)
- Student support services at the University of Worcester Information and Learning Services

5. Pre-Qualifying Day
Towards the end of their training, students attend a pre-qualifying day which will prepare them for work as a practitioner by covering issues such as:
- NCT Practitioner CPD requirements
- NCT Practitioner contracts and Licence-to-Practise
- Career progression within NCT
- Self-Employment (finance and tax)
- Marketing NCT courses
- Liaising with local health professionals
- Ethics and the NCT Practitioner
- NCT Competencies

6. Work-Based Learning – support for facilitation of NCT Essentials Courses
Students will be provided with clear guidance on how to set up, book and facilitate the NCT Essentials Courses that they will facilitate as part of their probationary period. This will be in the form of written NCT guidelines and as a one-to-one preparatory session with their Core Tutor. They will be issued with an NCT Student Contract which will outline the responsibilities and expectations of both the student and NCT. Further details of ‘working within NCT’ will be given at the Induction programme.

7. Babble/MIDIRS/NCT Library
Students will have access to the learning and research support on NCT Group sites, these sites will also provide information and support for them in their role as a practitioner http://babble.nct.org.uk/info-resources/library-services
http://www.nct.org.uk/professional/research

8. Study Skill Support
Students are able to access the University’s learning support both online and through Study Skills Advice Sheets http://www.worcester.ac.uk/studyskills/

9. Student Forum and e-groups
NCT students are supported by membership of a student forum and of student e-groups – many specific issues, queries and problems are addressed through these channels.

10. NCT Practitioners and Branches
NCT students are supported by their local NCT practitioners (in particular Excellent Practitioners) and spend time developing a relationship with them through course observation. Students also access support from local branches through relationships built up through branch involvement.
11. Disability and Dyslexia
NCT (Disability Discrimination Policy and Equal Opportunities Policy) and the University (Equal Opportunity Policy) promote equality in relation to race, disability, gender, age and sexual orientation.

The Disability Service within the University provides specialist academic support, making recommendations for reasonable adjustments to teaching and assessment based on individual need. The NCT Disability Tutor provides additional support.

18. Admissions

Admissions Policy

NCT seeks to recruit students who

21. Indicators of quality and standards

External Examiners have consistently judged the previous NCT awards (Diplomas of Higher Education Antenatal Education, Breastfeeding Counselling and Postnatal Group Facilitation) to be robust programmes providing a positive and rewarding learning experience that met appropriate academic standards.

In the field of ‘supporting parents in the transition to parenthood’, the skills demonstrated by NCT practitioners are widely acknowledged and NCT is seeking to formalise these through NCT Competency Standards Framework.
The University underwent a QAA Institutional Audit in March 2011. The audit confirmed that confidence can be placed in the soundness of the institution’s current and likely future management of the academic standards of its awards and the quality of the learning opportunities available to students. The audit team highlighted several aspects of good practice, including the student academic representative (StARs) initiative, the proactive approach which supports the student experience for disabled students, the comprehensiveness of the student online environment (SOLE), the wide range of opportunities afforded to students to enhance their employability, the institution’s commitment to enhancement, and the inclusive approach to working with its collaborative partners.

22. Graduate Destinations, Employability and Links with Employers

Graduate destinations
