The Trust's Grant scheme helps home and refugee students facing severe financial and personal difficulties acquire academic, trade, or professional qualifications. Applications are considered for people who are estranged from their family, orphaned, adopted, cared for by relatives or friends, caring for a severely sick or disabled single parent. Refugees must have full refugee status or Indefinite Leave to Remain in the UK. Assistance is normally given only to students over 16 and under 21. However, help will be given to those over the age of 21 when both the course being followed and the financial support of the Trust began before the applicant was 21. No assistance is available under any circumstances to those who have reached the age of 25. They do not normally help those studying second degrees, postgraduate courses. Visit website for more information. Initial enquiries should be made by telephone or email.

They make modest but vital grants to care leavers aged 18-29 who are in crisis, or who want to take control of their lives and develop new skills. Care leavers may get assistance with education, housing, welfare and personal development needs. The maximum single award is £800 and there is a maximum limit of £800 in a 12 month period payable to any individual, whether in stage payments or as a result of separate applications.
