The reason we request this information is that it might highlight relationships of which it would be useful for colleagues in the University to be aware. For example, if a member of staff initiates a contact with an individual or company, it is good customer relationship management to be aware of any pre-existing links or associations that may exist between the University and that individual or body.

This is also a form of safeguard for employees that they have informed the University of the relationship that exists, in the event of any positive or adverse media attention, or any perceived or actual conflicts of interests arising from the relationship.
